Boy Recovering From Tiger Mauling

By CARL GRAHAM

BEARSVILLE — People who play with cats occasionally get their fingers scratched. But when tabby is seven feet long and weighs over 200 pounds, look out!

Marc Hilger, 12-year-old son of Mrs. James Cummins of the Bearsview-Wittenberg Road, is due back in school Monday after a week in Kingston's Benedictine Hospital and a week of recuperation at home, all because he found himself the sparring mate of a large Bengal tiger named Myrtle that fortunately was in a friendly mood. But with friends like Myrtle, Marc hardly needs enemies.

Two weeks ago Marc spent the weekend with Patrick Denver, a sixth grade classmate at Woodstock Elementary School. On Sunday the two boys went to visit Mrs. Jean Denver, Patrick's stepmother, who lives on a farm about five miles south of Delhi.

Myrtle, a male despite his name, had his camera along and went outside Sunday afternoon to take a picture of Myrtle, who was tethered on a large chain beside a tree in the yard.

Marc climbed on a bale of hay about four feet from Myrtle's extreme range and got his picture. As he knelt to change the roll of film he heard a snapping noise and looked up to see 200-plus pounds of tiger lunging through the air toward him.

Marc can hardly be blamed for trying to run, but it was an unfortunate impulse. The tiger, one of the fastest animals alive, easily overtook him, striking him in the back of the neck and knocking him down.

"I can yell loud any time but you should have heard me when he got me down," Marc said.

The family, still inside, failed to hear his cries for help. Myrtle used the helpless boy for a punching bag, at one time rolling onto his back and tossing Marc into the air with his paws.

Special

Marc tried unsuccessfully to get Myrtle into a Tarzan-type scissors hold and at one time had his left hand into the huge cat's jaws up to his elbow, netting himself nothing more than two stitches on his hand. Every time he attempted to get up and escape the playful cat would cuff him back down with a playful swipe of its paw. Myrtle's initial leap had severed several nerves in the back of his neck and he didn't feel any pain as the cat cuffed his scalp.

The family failed to hear his cries and he was a prisoner until an unidentified woman overheard engine. Her mother came to the rescue with a car that enabled her to get him to Benedictine Hospital, where surgeons took 155 plastic sutures.

Most of the stitches are on his scalp where they will be concealed by his hair, but he picked up two stitches on his left hand when he put it into the tiger's maw and another five on his right hand when Myrtle playfully bit down on it. Only 16 of the stitches are on his face.

Marc had a long shock of blond hair before his bout with Myrtle but doctors cut it off to get at his wounds, and he's sporting an abbreviated crew cut.

Mrs. Cummins said she wasn't sure why Mrs. Denver kept a menagerie that includes, in addition to Myrtle, a chimpanzee named Henry, a coatimundi named Miss Monday, a mountain lion named Priscilla, and several dogs.

Asked if he was scared when Myrtle tackled him, Marc said, "I didn't have time to be scared."

Mrs. Cummins is just thankful that Myrtle wasn't playing for keeps and that her son wasn't seriously injured or killed.

They say it's an ill wind that blows nobody good. Marc will have all sorts of material for show and tell when he returns to school Monday.

Communists Must Respond to Plan

Nixon Issues Strong Warning to Hanoi

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon Thursday warned Hanoi the United States will not negotiate the surrender of South Vietnam and will make no further offers and concessions until the Communists respond to the peace plan he has put "on the table."

Nixon also said that Democratic presidential candidates who have criticized his peace efforts may encourage Hanoi and the Viet Cong to delay any response until after the November elections.

The President made his remarks at a 45-minute news conference in his Oval White House Office, the first he has held in three months. He sought to reassure President Nguyen Van Thieu that the administration would make no agreements with the Communists behind the South Vietnamese leader's back. Nixon also announced that he would leave on his trip to China Feb. 17.

Nixon disclosed the details on Jan. 25 of an eight-point peace plan he had put before negotiators in Paris. He has offered to withdraw all American troops from South Vietnam, but has balked at Hanoi's demands that the United States abandon all support of the Thieu government.

Nixon said he did not "question the patriotism" of Democrats who have criticized his peace efforts. But he said he believed candidates for president should review their statements in the light that their words might "encourage him (the Vietnamese Communist) to continue the war."

The President also said that his China trip should not "create very great optimism or very great pessimism." He said one week of discussions should not be expected to sweep away 20 years of hostility. But he said his trip was a "watershed" in relations between China and the United States and might start a new chapter that would be featured by "communication, rather than confrontation."

—Declared there would be no tax increases this year, saying that he believed it was impossible for Congress to "get to" the issue of changing the tax structure this year. He said his administration had reached no decision on a proposal for a value-added tax—in effect, a national sales tax.

—Repeated he opposes busing school children for the purpose of racial balance.

—Said the United States has not made a decision on whether to recognize the new nation of Bangladesh and that the administration was trying "to develop a new relationship with the countries on the subcontinent that will be pro-Indian, pro-Bengalese, pro-Pakistan, but mostly pro-peace."

Kingston's Share of Plant Computed at $1.1 Million

By HUGH REYNOLDS

KINGSTON — The city's share of the secondary Waste Water Treatment plant on The Strand, mandated by the state three years ago, has been computed at $1,142,752.

The total cost of the project will be $2,856,878, of which the state will pay $897,876 and the federal government will pay $816,250.

Final cost figures were computed by the city's consulting engineers, the firm of Brinnier and Larios of Maiden Lane. Bids were opened on the project, which will replace the city's primary sewage treatment plant (also on The Strand) on Feb. 2. The combination of low bids was $2,431,000 against an estimated overall cost, drawn up in January of 1970, of $2,572,000.

Another $1.9 million needed to complete Town of Ulster sewer project. Story on page 3.

Under the $2,572,000 formula, the city's share was $1,087,886, the state's share was $742,057 and the federal share was $816,250. The federal share will remain the same with the final figure and Christos Larios, of Brinnier and Larios said "there will be no problem" in securing additional funds from the state. The state, then, will be paying an additional $155,000 and the city an additional $54,000.

gest item at $267,551. That includes 6.32 per cent of the bid price for engineering (5 per cent for design and 1.32 per cent for on the job supervision during construction). There is another $88,000 for a project engineer ($44,000) and two assistants, one electrical engineer at $17,600 and one mechanical engineer at $26,000. Also included under technical services is $10,000 for soil tests, $6,000 for detailed inspection of equipment used in the project, $6,000 for field laying out of construction and $5,000 for an operation and maintenance manual.

Legislators Provide Clinic Lease Law

By LYNN MULVANEY

KINGSTON — A 28 to 4 vote of the Ulster County Legislature Thursday night provided for a local law which would allow the leasing of the Ulster County Tumor Clinic to Kingston Hospital with March 1 set as the date for a public hearing on the proposal.

The measure's sponsor, Melvin Mones (R-City), chairman of the Public Health Committee, spoke favorably of the leasing saying "the transfer was not without reason and that the proposal had been explored for eight or nine months."

Clarence Raichle (R-City) and Dr. Gerald P. Gorman (D-City), minority leader, opposed the resolution with Raichle asking that the clinic be put up for public bid. Dr. Gorman said he "could not see the needs of Kingston Hospital superceding the needs of Kingston Laboratory" which is also interested in the property and "which renders service to both of Kingston's hospitals."

The board also voted 18 to 14 to refer the legislation and rules committee a resolution requesting the enactment of an Assembly bill to create a County of Ulster Industrial Development Agency.

The resolution was filed by Ralph Brach (R-Dist. 9) and Eugene Noe (R-Dist. 9). Brach's attempt to amend it to include a State Senate bill was defeated and Louis Klein (D-Dist. 7) questioned the alleged powers of the agency and its rights of eminent domain. He said the state comptroller opposes such legislation.

William West (R-Dist. 12) called the proposal a duplication of activities and suggested that the county "not superimpose destiny on its towns." He also predicted future expenses of an agency which he indicated would mount yearly.

Brach defended his proposal as a stimulus for industrial growth adding that county legislative approval would not finalize the matter because the measure has to be passed at the state level.

Parking fee exemptions for grand and trial jurors went down to defeat after Lewis Kirschner (D-Dist. 7) requested that the jurors be allowed free parking in the parking lot behind the Ulster County Court House or any other designated parking area owned by the county because "they are doing a service for the people of Ulster County."

Another measure suggesting that exchanges of committee assignments be allowed between legislators also fell by the wayside when an amendment to the proposal went down to defeat.

Alex J. Nirenberg (D-Dist. 10) sought to amend his resolution narrowing the proposed time in which the exchange could be made from 90 to 15 days.

A move to have a stenographic record of the county legislative meetings was referred to committee for study on the suggestion of its sponsor Klein. The high cost of printing such records annually was pointed out by Lester C. Elmendorf (R-Dist. 2).

Still another proposal calling for a person's signature for medical assistance payments was also referred to committee after the measure was proposed by Glenn Debrosky (R-Dist. 7).

Positive action was taken on the balance of the more than 30 resolutions one of which called for the sale of $7 million in serial bonds to pay for part of the construction of the Ulster County Infirmary now under construction.

Larios emphasized, however, that construction on the sewage treatment facility must begin before March 31 or the city could lose both state and federal funding. Toward that end, Mayor Francis R. Koenig said today that he will be seeking bonding authorization from the Common Council at its March 2 meeting for the city's $1,142,752 share of the project.

Larios gave a breakdown to day of additional costs above ventilation contract at $4,745. Those bids have been reviewed and approved by Brinnier and Larios, a contingency fund, administrative costs, legal and fiscal work and an operation and maintenance manual.

Technical services is the biggest item at $267,551. That includes 6.32 per cent of the bid price for engineering (5 per cent for design and 1.32 per cent for on the job supervision during construction). There is another $88,000 for a project engineer ($44,000) and two assistants, one electrical engineer at $17,600 and one mechanical engineer at $26,000. Also included under technical services is $10,000 for soil tests, $6,000 for detailed inspection of equipment used in the project, $6,000 for field laying out of construction and $5,000 for an operation and maintenance manual.

Legal and fiscal work is budgeted at $24,312 and administrative costs to the city are set at $12,156.

A $121,560 contingency fund, five per cent of the bid price, is also included.

Thalle Construction of Yonkers was the low bidder on Feb. 2, on a general construction contract at $128,960. The Electric of Kingston was low on the plumbing contract at $22,495 and the heating and ventilation contract at $4,745. Those bids have been reviewed and approved by Brinnier and Larios, a contingency fund, administrative costs, legal and fiscal work and an operation and maintenance manual.

State Police Car Kills Man

By WALTER S. CLARK

WOODSTOCK — A 29-year-old Bearsview man was killed when he was struck by a State Police car at 9:15 p. m. Thursday as he stood behind his disabled vehicle on Route 212 about one half mile west of this community.

A passenger in the victim's car and a state trooper also were injured in the mishap. Woodstock and State Police from the Hurley Zone Headquarters identified the dead man as Spiro Galanos of Route 212, Bearsview. He was the eighth person fatally injured in highway accidents in Ulster County this year and the fourth this month.

The eighth traffic death in the county in 1971 was recorded on March 10 after a Rutland, Vt. man died following a collision on the State Thruway in the Town of Plattekill.

According to police investigators, Galanos was westbound on Route 212 when his foreign make car became disabled. Authorities said the man went to the rear of the vehicle, which was on the highway, and as he was examining the motor compartment he reportedly was struck by an unmarked State Police car operated by BCI Investigator Carl S. Van Wagenen of the Hurley station.

A passenger in Galanos' car, Yvette Madeira, 28, of Woodstock, was taken to Benedictine Hospital by Doctor's Ambulance. She was treated for lacerations of the back and head.

Investigator Van Wagenen sustained lacerations of the knees, police reports noted. Police Chief William E. Waterous, Ulster County Coroner Richard Buono of Saugerties, and Captain R. F. Orr and Lieut. C. G. Griffin of the Middletown State Police headquarters investigated the fatality.

Gospel Film At Area Church

TOWN OF ULSTER

A gospel film by T. Texas Tyler will be shown at the Bethel Assembly of God Church, 11 Esopus Avenue, Sunday 7 p.m.

The Rev. Jim H. Jenkin, pastor, in announcing the special program said that a capacity crowd is expected and he suggested early attendance. The service is open to the public and admission is free.

Tyler, known as The Man with a Million Friends, one of the foremost country and western artists for many years, died Jan. 23. He had a full career in the entertainment world before becoming a minister of the Assemblies of God. The color film tells why he turned his talents exclusively to gospel work.

Ulster Sewer Project . . . $1.9 Million More Needed

By JON POWERS

LAKE KATRINE
Thursday, Feb. 17 is the day Town of Ulster residents will get some sad news: another $1.9 million is needed to complete the town's sewer project.

Officials and engineers will be on hand to explain to residents what happened and why we need the money.
The cost of the sewer project was originally set at $4.5 million. Supervisor Carmine Sabino said that rising construction costs and interest rates have inflated the price tag. Now, the project will cost almost $6.5 million.

A public hearing will be held later this month on the town's request for more money. It is expected that the meeting will be held Feb. 23. Sabino said at Thursday's Town Board meeting that he hopes that a public referendum will be held before March 1. "Further delays," he said, "will just cost us more money."
A major portion of that $1.9

million will be used to award a contract for collecting sewers. Bids totaling $1.1 million have already been received by the Town Board, but it is holding the contract in abeyance until it has enough money to award the contract. Town officials say that if they tried to re-bid the contract, it would cost more than $1.1 million.
Sabino has issued an appeal to all town residents to attend Thursday's informational meeting. "We want to exchange views with the people, and tell them what we're doing and what we want to do. There are no secrets; there's nothing we want to hide."

If the referendum is rejected by the voters, the sewer project will be delayed indefinitely. It can be put into operation if it is 100 per cent complete, and it cannot be completed without the additional money.

On hand at Thursday's meeting will be representatives of J. Kenneth Fraser and Associates, the project's engineer and Frank Bertolini of Marine Midland Bank, who will explain cost estimates of the sewer plan.
It has not yet been determined to what degree the additional $1.9 million will affect the town's tax rate on assessed valuation.

Part of the reason for the inflated cost of the project, according to Sabino, are the delays that were encountered awaiting final approval of state and federal aid. One application took eight months to process, and another took nine months, so work was delayed for 17 months altogether, while construction costs soared.
In other matters discussed at Thursday's Town Board meeting, it was noted that the town is considering establishing a fee for commercial users of the town landfill site. It was emphasized that homeowners will not be charged extra.

It was also noted that the Town Board is now working with the Urban Development Corporation to construct a low to moderate income, 250-unit Senior Citizens housing project in the town. The project is still in the preliminary stages.

Phone Co. . . . Fair Amnesty Clause

By JON POWERS

POUGHKEEPSIE
New York Telephone Co. feels that the amnesty clause it has demanded be included in the latest contract offer to the Communications Workers of America "is fair to all concerned."

But at this juncture, that is all New York Telephone is saying. There has been no elaboration on why the amnesty clause was demanded by management, and accepted by union negotiators.

The amnesty clause was sharply criticized by Robert E. Smith, president of Local 1120, CWA, which serves the Mid-Hudson area, and Local 1120 attorney Sherwood E. Davis. At a press conference Tuesday, they termed the clause "un-American" and a violation of the Constitution.

The section of the clause quoted by Local 1120 officials Tuesday reads: "... the company reserves the right to discipline, including dismissal, any employee charged with a felony, misdemeanor, criminal violation or offense" during the duration of the seven month strike.

Union officials maintain that a "man is innocent until proven guilty." Davis said the union could perhaps live with the clause if it allowed dismissal of an employee convicted of a criminal offense.

Arthur Roy, a public relations official with New York Telephone Co. in Poughkeepsie, told The Freeman Thursday that he has not yet seen a copy of the proposed contract.

"All I can say is that the company apparently feels that the amnesty clause is fair to all concerned," said Roy.

According to a telephone company spokesman, the clause, in its entirety, reads: "It is the spirit of this agreement that there will be no reprisals, either by the company or the union, against any employee who is either working or striking . . . except that the company reserves the right to discipline, including dismissal, any employee charged with a felony, misdemeanor, criminal violation or offense."

Roy said that there was apparently some good reason why the clause was included, and why it was accepted by the union negotiators. "Perhaps it involves something that happened down in New York City during the strike," said Roy. "I'm sure it doesn't involve any incidents that happened in this area."

It was indicated that the clause may have been included to cover a specific incident that occurred during the strike, and that management and labor have an "unwritten agreement" that the clause will not be used in reprisal for other incidents that may have occurred.

The 38,000 striking phone workers in New York State, meanwhile, continue to vote by mail on the latest proposal. Results are expected to be announced on Wednesday. Local 1120 officials have urged their 800 workers to reject the proposal. The amnesty clause is their primary objection.

Fish Joins Resolution

Rep. Hamilton Fish Jr. has joined in a Joint Resolution commemorating the occasion of the 60th Anniversary of Girl Scouts of America. It was announced today.

The Resolution, if adopted by both the House and Senate, is timed to coincide with the organization's official Birthday Week which is March 12 to 18th, which was established by Juliette Low on March 12, 1912, with the Congressional Charter for the organization being granted on March 16, 1950.

"The Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. is the largest organization for girls in this country," Congressman Fish said in introducing the Resolution, "serving a total of 3.9 million members."

"This informal educational movement has been an important force in the development of our nation's young people, and stands for the elimination of prejudice, concern for the environment, service to the disadvantaged and aged, involvement of minority people in our society, international friendship and exchange, career development, and youth decision making." Congressman Fish said. "I think it only fitting that Congress recognize the rich contribution of this organization of our country's life and future."

In introducing the Resolution, Congressman Fish joined Orval Hansen (R-Idaho) and a bipartisan group of House members.

Washington Dinner Tickets Now on Sale

A limited number of tickets to the 47th annual Washington Day Dinner for Men at the Old Dutch Church Feb. 24 were placed on sale today. It was announced by John R. Warren, president of the Men's Club.

Joseph Connell, secretary general of the Kitchener-Waterloo YMCA, Kitchener, Ontario, Canada, will be the speaker for the dinner, which will be held in Bethany Hall at 6:30 p.m. Clair S. Sheaffer is general chairman and toastmaster.

The dinner is one of the oldest consecutive events of its type in Kingston. With seating capacity limited to 280, men who attended previous years' dinners were given "first refusal" on this year's tickets. About 20 were unable to attend, and it is these tickets that are now being made available for sale on a first come, first served basis. They may be obtained from Robert E. Haines, ticket chairman, or at the church office.

Held annually on or near George Washington's Birthday, the dinner honors the nation's first president, who visited the Old Dutch Church in 1782 and wrote a letter thanking the Consistory for their hospitality. The letter is still preserved in the church's museum room.

FRANCIS T. MURRAY

Kingston area resident Francis T. Murray has been admitted to the practice of law in the State of New York at a ceremony held recently in the Appellate Division of State Supreme Court, Albany. Murray, the son of the late Francis T. Murray Sr., Ulster County District Attorney in 1930, and Mrs. Murray of Kingston, resides in Hurley. He is associated with Charles H. Gaffney in the practice of law at 23 Crown Street, Kingston.

Tax Course Is Offered

A short course on Income Tax Preparation will be offered by Kingston Schools Consolidated continuing education starting Tuesday, Feb. 15.

The course which will be held on four consecutive Tuesdays at Kingston High School is designed for personal tax returns. H. Raymond Norman, director of continuing education in announcing the course said that it serves not only those who wish to work out their own income tax but also enables those who employ the services of an accountant, attorney or income tax specialist to utilize these services more effectively.

The course will cover such topics as gross income, regulations pertinent to who must file, schedules and supporting forms, when to file, personal exemptions, dependency exemptions, filing status and tax computations.

Pre-registration is a must and may be accomplished by calling the continuing education office at Kingston High School.

Two Windows Are Smashed At Golden Cue

KINGSTON — Two large plate glass windows were smashed at the Golden Cue Pool parlor at Albany Avenue and Maiden Lane sometime late last night or early today, according to police who are investigating.

The incident followed two consecutive nights of vandalism in the city during which windows were smashed in more than a dozen parked vehicle in various parts of Kingston, and panes of glass in upwards of 20 business places were riddled with pellets believed to have been fired from high-powered air guns.

Police are continuing investigation of the three destructive incidents.

Man, 75, Sentenced To Jail Term

WOODLAND, Calif. (UPI)—A 75-year-old pensioner was sentenced to 6 months to 30 years in prison Thursday for operating a house of prostitution and having sexual relations with a 15-year-old girl.

George Ali Bailey, a native of Pakistan, was arrested at his Woodland rooming house with three scantily clad women. A cash register was next to his bed.

The teenage daughter of a Sacramento attorney testified that she turned to prostitution after running away from home. She said she met Bailey, who drove her to his home Aug. 3.

She said that once there, Bailey and 16 farm laborers had sexual relations with her and that she and Bailey split $210 received from the other men. The girl said she went to the police the next day.

Deputy Sheriff Nabs Youth

ROSENDALE — A 17-year-old youth was arrested Thursday by a deputy sheriff and charged with petit larceny involving the alleged theft of merchandise from Fann's store in this community.

The sheriff's office reported Theodore Allen Hansen of 28 Main Street, this village, was taken before Town Justice Raymond LeFever. He was released pending a hearing. The merchandise involved was not noted by police.

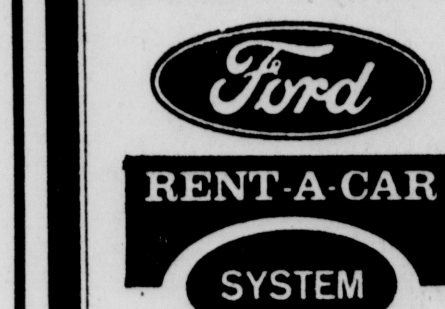

Deputy Sheriff Richard Bockelman made the arrest.

Nixon's Brother a Wheeler-Dealer

Jack Anderson Says

WASHINGTON — Donald Nixon, the President's likeable, loquacious brother, is an inveterate wheeler-dealer.

He talked expansively about his business ventures recently to a few visiting businessmen. One was my associate George Clifford, posing as a Realtor.

They met in a big, pastel building just off the Los Angeles-San Diego freeway in Fountain Valley, Calif.

The sign outside said "Hallamore Homes," but the proprietors were building empires, not houses. They were floating a stock offering; they were trying to line up customers for their modular housing; they were hustling; they were playing for the big buck.

Everything about their operation looked big. The founding father, Lloyd G. Hallamore, was large enough to dwarf most football linemen. His son, Barry, was even bigger.

But the biggest man in the room was Donald Nixon, who is only six-foot-two in physical size but sits high on the shoulders of the President of the United States.

The stocky, amiable Nixon, who was wearing blue trousers and a light blue, open-necked sports shirt with a monogram on the breast pocket that looked like a jelly smudge, did most of the talking.

Government Deals

He said the Navy was close to purchasing 1,200 Hallamore homes for personnel at El Toro Marine Air Station, near Richard Nixon's San Clemente estate.

Donald said other deals were being worked with Fred Harvey, Inc., a concessionaire in the national parks, which depends on the continued good will of the Interior Department to keep its lucrative contracts.

Donald Nixon winked. He had also encountered considerable interest in Hallamore homes, he said, while traveling abroad as a vice president for the Marriott Corp., a large restaurant, food catering and hotel chain.

In Greece, he discussed modular houses with Aristotle Onassis, husband of the widow of the man who defeated Donald's brother in the 1960 presidential race. Donald remembered that Onassis had sent to his hotel room roses with the longest stems he had ever seen.

There was also interest in Hallamore homes, said Donald, in Spain, Portugal and Brazil.

"The director of the National Bank in Spain told me he wanted these houses over there," Donald said, and he winked.

Suddenly, he fixed his gaze on a visitor connected with the airline Air West.

"How do I get Air West?" Donald demanded. "We ought to do their catering. They owe me that."

High Finance

After the meeting, the participants drifted away. Four of them, including Donald Nixon and George Clifford, went to a roadside restaurant not far from Hallamore plant.

"I've already eaten," Donald said from his side of the booth. But he eyed the menu hungrily and ordered a "melted burger"—a hamburger with melted cheese on pumpernickle—and a chocolate milk shake.

"Don't tell my wife," he said, and he winked again. He has a serious weight problem. But he would rather talk about making money than losing weight. He told about his deal with Hallamore.

"They have promised me 25 per cent of their stock," he said, satisfaction and melted cheese on his lips. "And I'm going to be a director of San-Bar." This corporation, he said, would handle foreign sales of Hallamore homes.

Then he embarked on a rambling discourse of his activities abroad. He was asked whether he planned to accompany his brother on the presidential trip to Peking.

Donald's face took on all the earnestness that Richard Nixon displays on television. "Oh, no," said Donald. "Only my brother and his closest advisors will go."

Then he grinned and his left forefinger jabbed the air. "But remember this," he said, "don't overlook the possibility of trade with China. And with Russia. There is an opportunity there. Someone has to do business with them."

Footnote: A spokesman for the Naval Facilities Engineering Command confirmed that the Marines had been looking at Hallamore homes but hadn't decided whether to install any at the El Toro station. Hallamore is the subcontractor, meanwhile, in another bid to provide modular homes for the Air Force. Fred Harvey, Inc. has decided against installing Hallamore homes in Death Valley and the Grand Canyon, a spokesman said.

Under the Dome

Accident Prone — Rep. Seymour Halpern, R-N.Y., recently returned unscathed from an 11-nation narcotics investigation. In Vietnam, he had to be rescued from a downed helicopter. In Thailand, he left the Imperial Hotel minutes before it burned to the ground. In Turkey, he was chased from a poppy field by irate women field workers, who got after him with hoes and stones. Safely back home, Halpern reached into his oven without thinking and grabbed a hot Corned Beef pot with his bare hands. "I heard my fingers sizzle," said the Congressman, nursing three bandaged fingers.

Pistol-Packing Papa — Dapper Rep. Dan Flood, D-Pa., whose twirling waxed mustache gives him the look of an old movie villain, packs a small foreign-made automatic pistol when he's on the streets of Washington. He was forced to disarm temporarily because his Washington pistol permit expired. But he took a look at the crime statistics and quickly re-applied. Flood doesn't carry his pistol on the House floor nor in his Pennsylvania district, he tells us. In both places, he is sufficiently loved not to have need of a sidearm.

Pentagon Under Attack

Sen. Barry Goldwater ran for the presidency in 1964 as a conservative Republican. His philosophy has not changed appreciably since.

So his recent sharp criticism of Pentagon procurement policies, while surprising, has to be appraised in the context of a statement coming from a source friendly to the Nixon administration.

The Arizona lawmaker cannot be judged in the same light, for example, as Sen. William Proxmire, the Wisconsin Democrat who for months has been spearheading a move to cut defense spending. He may be knowledgeable and sincerely motivated but the mere fact that he is a member of the opposition party makes his denunciations of the Defense Department suspect.

Thus when Sen. Goldwater sees a "God-awful waste of money" in Pentagon methods, his observations have to command respect. And when he asserts that the Soviet Union is far ahead of the United States in major weapons production, he sounds a chilling warning that should penetrate the mighty defenses of even those men who mold America's military machine.

He claimed that it takes this country with all its vaunted know-how from seven to 10 years to develop what the supposedly less-efficient Communist nation can do in three years. Mr. Goldwater speaks not only as a senator and a member of the armed services committee but also as a former Air Force general so he has more than a passing acquaintance with the problem.

Interestingly enough, he was joined in his attack on the Defense Department by other armed service committee members including Chairman John Stennis and Sen. Strom Thurmond. Both of these lawmakers previously had defended the Pentagon against criticism from the Proxmire group.

With the heavy artillery being unleashed on the Pentagon from both sides of the aisle, the lesson of economy and efficiency may take root.

When David J. Packard was deputy secretary of defense, his standard answer to criticism was that nothing much could be done about procurement methods. The latest attacks on the Defense Department came at a hearing on confirmation of Kenneth Rush as successor to Mr. Packard. Mr. Rush quickly promised to give the problem priority attention. Which is as it should be. There's no reason why we should have to take a back seat to Russia in this or any other production activity. What it boils down to is we're all in a hurry for Mr. Rush to speed things up.

240,000 New Jobs

January saw 240,000 Americans in new jobs. That raised the number at work to the all-time high of 80,836,000. Because the infusion of Vietnam war veterans into the work force has increased rapidly the past few months as troop withdrawal increased, the number of unemployed stands at 5.4 million, a rate of 5.9 per cent, still too high but beginning to give way from the 6.1 per cent apex.

Geoffrey Moore, director of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, testified that since July new jobs had been created at an annual rate of 2.6 million, which he termed "very high." At that rate, new jobs for the six months ahead to and including next July, would bring 1.3 million new workers into the economy. That would raise employment over 82 million and lower unemployment to four million, an unemployment rate of 4.65 per cent.

Herbert Stein, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisors, said that the recent pattern of a steady rise in jobs "will surely reduce the unemployment rate as we go through 1972."

One measure of employment comes from the same household sample survey that establishes unemployment. It showed total jobs, in January, seasonally adjusted, at 80.6 million, up 240,000 from December.

The other measure comes from employer payroll reports. This leaves out the huge number of self-employed and household servants. It showed total jobs, in January, seasonally adjusted, of 71.4 million, also up 240,000. Jobs rose in manufacturing and construction, which had been relatively stagnant, to augment the normal rise in retail trade, services and state and local governments.

One augury of stability was the number of workers out of work for 15 weeks or longer—a good measure of hardship unemployment. It dropped for the second consecutive month, from 1,273,000 in December to 1,198,000 in January. That is 75,000 chronically unemployed who found jobs. The employment indications are beginning to be bright.

Moscow Key to Viet

WASHINGTON—It seems evident now that negotiations between the United States and South and North Vietnam alone will never settle the war in Indochina and that some other influence will have to intervene to attain that result. This could be the Peking Government or it could be the Moscow Government. But one of the two must recognize that the parleys over peace in Vietnam have reached a stalemate and do something about it.

The New York Times in an editorial Tuesday described the situation in this way:

"It is clear that a simple swap of American troops with prisoners of war is not now being offered by Hanoi. It is doubtful that it was offered last year, although that question is one that may long be disputed."

"This year, as last year, Hanoi's primary objective is a political change in Saigon, starting with the removal of President Thieu from office. Last year's presidential election in South Vietnam, which might have accomplished that purpose, could have made it unnecessary for Hanoi to insist that the United States oust General Thieu directly. Mr. Thieu (Chief of the North Vietnamese delegation at Paris) has indicated. But Hanoi's definition of American withdrawal has always included cessation of the economic and military aid without which the Saigon regime could not survive. This flaw undermines Hanoi's ambiguous claim that American withdrawal and prisoner release last year could have been negotiated separately from a South Vietnamese political settlement."

The more one analyzes the texts of all the documents and the statements related to the negotiations which have been published thus far by both sides, the more it is apparent that North Vietnam is determined to control the government at Saigon and that it will not return the prisoners or end the war until it finds a way to dominate South Vietnam. The United States, on the other hand, knows that such a settlement would mean the taking over of South Vietnam by the Communists and that the whole purpose of America's program of assistance would have been in vain. Unquestionably, from a military viewpoint, South Vietnam is able to protect itself. It has American advisors, and some American air power will be available for a while even after all the United States ground troops have been withdrawn. So the armed forces of South Vietnam are strong enough today to withstand any attack by North Vietnam and will be able to thwart any invasion in the future.

Hanoi knows this. Then why is there an unwillingness to make peace? The answer is that behind the North Vietnamese government stands the Soviet Union, which has furnished supplies and military equipment running into billions of dollars in the last several years. It has not terminated its support. President Nixon's task, therefore, is to start negotiations with the government in Moscow to see what terms can be developed so that a settlement can be reached which will ensure the safety of South Vietnam against aggression and

You Listen to His Kind of Book

Jim Bishop: Reporter

Jewish humor is a special type of laughter, a chuckle which loses a little in the translation. It is adroit, self-deprecating, moralistic, and often sad. The master of the Jewish humor is no stage name; he is a fat bald man of Charlotte, N.C., who can laugh with tears in his eyes. His name is Harry Golden and he puts out acres of books which quite properly, are not read—you listen to them.

I finished his newest — "The Golden Book of Jewish Humor" — which reminds me of a bride because it consists of something old, something new, something borrowed, something blue. I laughed. I choked. Once in awhile I said: "Hmmm."

Two partners are enjoying the sun at Miami Beach. One claps his hand to his forehead. "I left the safe open," he moans. "What's to worry?"

his partner says. "We're both here."

Sarah Lipshitz shows up at a charity ball with a diamond the size of an infant's fist. The cats crowd around to meow. "It's the third biggest in the world," Sarah says. "The first is the Hope diamond, then comes the Kohinoor, then comes this one — the Lipshitz."

"What a lucky woman you are!" "Nothing," Sarah says, "is all mazel. With the Lipshitz diamond, the owner must accept the famous Lipshitz curse." The women gasped. "What's the Lipshitz curse?" "Lipshitz."

An immigrant didn't know how to use a telephone. He asked a hotel operator. "With this hand," she said, "you dial a number, with that hand you hold the telephone to your ear." The man shrugged. "Fine, with which hand do I talk?"

Phyllis phoned her mother from college and breathed deeply with excitement. "I'm calling from Morton's apartment," she said, "to tell you the news first. Morton and I are engaged." "Ah-ha," the mother exploded. "That's what worries me. Exactly what are you engaged in?" The young bachelor came home rumpled and fell asleep with his clothes on. His overly protective mother (aren't they all?) emptied his pockets and out fell a lipstick. She felt a pain in the heart. On the lipstick she read: "Helena Rubenstein." She shrugged. "Danks Gott she's a Jewish girl."

Woman is wheeling her new baby down the street in a carriage. A neighbor lady stops and gushes. "What a beautiful child!" "That's nothing," the mother said. "You should see her pictures."

Adolf Hitler was disturbed by nightmares. He called in a soothsayer. The bearded one looked in a crystal ball and said: "Ha-ho, mein Fuhrer, it is foretold that you will die on a Jewish holiday." Hitler spat in anger. "Which one?" he demanded. "Any day you die will be a Jewish holiday."

Rabbinical student: "Rabbi, why did God make man before woman?" Rabbi: "He didn't want any advice on how to make a man." A preaching rabbi stopped a sermon and asked a communicant to awaken a man in the second row. "That's not fair," the communicant said. "Why not?" the rabbi asked. "You put him to sleep, you wake him up."

Two Poles met in Brooklyn. "So how's it going with you, Glickman?" "Not so good," said Glickman. "Last month I spent forty-five dollars." "Forty-five dollars in one month! Back in the old country you could have been sick two years for that kind of money."

There was an air-raid alarm in Tel Aviv and Hymie the tailor lingered upstairs as his wife ran for the cellar. "Hymie!" she yelled. "Hurry!" "In a minute," he shouted. "I'm looking for my teeth." "Hymie!" the wife shrieked. "What do you think they're dropping—chicken sandwiches?"

During the Six-Day War, a young Israeli officer broke into the headquarters of Moshe Dayan. "General," he said, "excuse me, but I bring terrible news." "What happened?" "Arab guerrillas broke into a Tel Aviv bank and got away with a million dollars in pledges."

Two Jewish women having coffee. "Can you tell if your husband is lying just by looking at him?" asked Mrs. Klein. Mrs. Gross nodded. "If his lips are moving, he's lying." ...

Local Sgt. Draws Praise

NORTON AIR BASE, CALIF. The flight crew for Bob Hope's 21st annual tour of foreign bases, including a former Kingston man, has drawn special commendation from the project officer at Norton Air Force Base in California.

A member of that crew from the 63rd Military Airlift Wing was Master Sergeant John G. Johnson, son of Mrs. Helen Johnson of 16 West Chester Street and the late Bernard Johnson.

Sgt. Johnson, a veteran of 18 years of service to his country, has been stationed in various parts of the world including Vietnam, Germany, Japan, Africa and England. He has been at the West Coast Airbase for about two years. The airman is a graduate of Kingston High School.

The recent praise came from Captain A. J. C. Lavalley, Norton's project officer for Operation Jingle Bells, the annual whirlwind tour to entertain GIs in foreign bases.

Captain Lavalley wrote in one of the base newspapers at Norton the following:

"This was a special kind of trip and it took a special kind of man to be a crew member. I have no doubts there are many others in our wing who would have performed equally well. However, these are the men I flew with, the men I learned to respect, admire and love and the men of whom everyone in the wing can be justly proud. They are the finest crew I have ever had the good fortune to be associated with."

While heaping accolades on Hope's tour members — such outstanding personages as Miss

USA, Vida Blue, hurler for the Oakland Athletics; country singer Charlie Pride; Jim Nabors and the Hollywood Deb Stars — Captain Lavalley made a specific point that the ocean hopping flight was far from a "fat cat" and a "boondoggle" for the crew.

"What I do know," Captain Lavalley added, "is that for the 12 members of the flight crew it was nowhere near a boondoggle and not really a 'fat cat' deal. These men worked long and hard, more so than anyone not having made the trip can imagine."

"The Bob Hope Christmas Tour is anything but a picnic for the flight crew. The flights were very long and the time between barely the minimum required. But the work didn't stop with engine shutdown either. There was the personal baggage of 78 persons aboard and more than 19,000 pounds of equipment to be taken from the plane."

This year's overseas tour of service bases proved to be an even more historic one for Sgt. Johnson and the other crew members. It was highlighted by the historic pitch Hope made to negotiate the release of U.S.

Dramatic Skit Scheduled Saturday at Woodstock

Two members of Sullivan County Dramatic Workshop will present a 45-minute version of Edward Albee's

"Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf," at the Saturday meeting scheduled for 8:30 p.m. at Woodstock Artist Association Gallery, opposite the Village Green in Woodstock.

This version, with the two main characters of the play, George and Martha, retains the force and dramatic impact of the Albee original. It is a play which won three individual awards at the Regional State Festival in Poughkeepsie last October.

Helen Graham plays Martha and Bill Orr is George. Both are longtime members of the Sullivan County Dramatic Workshop, having appeared in many of its plays throughout the years.

The Sullivan County Dramatic Workshop in Monticello is in its 23rd year. As a rule, there are two major productions each year, one in April and another in October, and a number of scenes or one-acters or readings that are performed for various groups and organizations. The workshop has raised many thousands of dollars for charities since its inception in 1949.

A party to meet Helen Graham and Bill Orr will take place after the play.

There will be no admission charge for PAW members. A nominal charge will be made for non-members.

Eggs, A Good Buy

Eggs remain as a top purchase again this week according to the New York State Market and Consumer Information Service, with the high cost of beef, consumers may substitute this high protein item to stretch the family food budget.

Consumers may expect to find that their local retail produce counter will carry low price tags on yellow onions, potatoes and rutabagas. Salad items including endive, escarole and radishes are also a modest purchase. Most tender vegetables such as cucumbers, peppers, snap beans, eggplant and summer squash are expensive.

Despite higher wholesale prices bananas continue as a good fruit buy along with McIntosh apples.

Dear Abby

BY ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Mother Worried For Girl's Safety

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
(© 1972 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: I wrote to you several months ago about a male relative molesting my 3-year-old girl. Your answer was to confront him with it, and get him to a doctor, fast. We had already confronted him, of course, he denied everything. "She makes up stories," he said.

Abby, how can a 3-year-old make up stories of this kind?

I talked with the police department, and was told you cannot accuse someone of molesting without proof. How do you get proof? When the child was younger, this relative would come over and take her out for "rides" in his car, and when he brought her home, her clothes were a mess, and her diaper pins were upside down! (Abby, do you know any mothers who put diaper pins in upside down? I don't.) That, and a dozen other incidents, is still not sufficient proof. Will they take the word of a 3-year-old against that of a grown man who is admired and respected by all? NO!

I was made to look like a hysterical mother having hallucinations. Can you now understand why each night I pray for God to take him? Only then will I have peace of mind.

DEAR DAZED: I believe you. And I promise to give you my prompt personal assistance, if you will send me your name and address.

DEAR ABBY: I am a middle-aged woman, just recovering from surgery. I have also had a heart attack and I am not very well. My problem is I am trying to keep from getting the flu, but I have two women friends who always want to kiss me when they greet me. And when I leave, they are in the habit of kissing me goodbye.

I never minded until now. But there is so much flu around that a person can't be too careful. I would feel foolish asking them not to kiss me for this reason, yet I wish they wouldn't. How can I keep them from kissing me without losing their friendship? Please print this. I am sure others have the same problem.

SLAT LAKE CITY

DEAR SALT LAKE: When they approach you gently give them the "straight arm" and say, "Please, no kisses. One of us may have a little bug." (True, one of you may have.)

DEAR ABBY: The idea of exchanging tapes with servicemen who find writing letters tedious was a good one. Your comment that it was a good idea for those who could "afford" it caught my attention.

I suggest that both servicemen and their families contact their local U.S.O. Many U.S.O.'s at home and abroad will provide tapes, recorders and even pay the postage as a service to our men in uniform.

U.S.O. SUPPORTER

DEAR SUPPORTER: And this might be an appropriate time to inform those who may not be aware that the U.S.O. is NOT funded by the government! It is supported entirely by public donations as a United Way or Community Fund agency.

CONFIDENTIAL TO MASON CITY FATHER: There is little point in suddenly telling a 16-year-old son that if he ever gets into any kind of trouble to come to you first. For if the proper relationship has been built over the years, he will. And if it hasn't, the words will be meaningless.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069, or a personal reply enclosed stamped, addressed envelope. For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. (Hear Dear Abby Mon. thru Sat. at 10:25 a.m. WKNY-1490)

Doing the Right Thing

By ELIZABETH L. POST
(© 1972 Emily Post Institute, Inc.)

I HAVE RECEIVED many questions about what to say and how to act when one visits a bereaved family at a funeral home. Today's quiz concerns those questions and their answers. I believe it may be of help to others who have been, or will be, faced with this obligation.

1. Question. Who goes to see the family at the funeral home? Should one be invited, or may any acquaintance go?

Answer. There are no invitations — anyone may attend during the hours announced in the obituary notice, or by word of mouth. You should go if you feel that your visit would be in any way helpful. Bereaved persons need to know that their friends care, and this is one way you can show that.

2. Q. Should one participate in acts of religious faith when he visits the funeral home?

A. Yes, if he wishes to. If prayers are being said, the rosary recited, or anything of that sort, the visitor may certainly join in if it is compatible with his faith.

3. Q. Are there any subjects of conversation, or even phrases, which one should specifically avoid with the bereaved family?

A. Yes. Talking about "It's God's will," or "It was a blessing when he was suffering so," or "You were lucky she lived to such an age," are meant to be comforting, but actually are distressing to someone who, for the moment, can feel nothing but his loss.

4. Q. Should one avoid talking about the deceased to his family?

A. No. Those close to the deceased are generally anxious to talk about him, and in some cases, even about his death. It is an outlet for them, so don't try to change the subject but listen sympathetically if the need seems to be there.

5. Q. Should the visitor to the funeral home restrain his emotions? To what extent can he "let himself go"?

A. He should not, of course, become maudlin or over-sentimental. However, honest grief, expressed by tears, is perfectly natural and need not be choked back completely. Your tears may help those closest to the deceased release their own emotions, and this is very good for them.

6. Q. I am a very emotional person, and cannot talk to a bereaved family without breaking down. Would it be best for me to avoid going to wakes, or visiting the funeral home?

A. Not at all. It is your presence even more than your words which means a great deal to the bereaved. If you are afraid of actually making a scene, don't try to talk. A warm handshake and, perhaps, a kiss, tells them all that they need to know.

Rooming-In Concept

Benedictine Hospital Introduces Lamaze Method of Delivery

Community centered and once again answering the needs of today's society demands, Benedictine Hospital will introduce the Lamaze method of child delivery, prenatal classes to orient parents to the rooming-in concept, classes in child-bearing and post delivery instruction in infant care.

The flexible Family Centered Maternal Child Health Program which permits parents to share the child bearing experience and to have access to their baby during the post partum period was announced this week by Sister Gabrielle, director of nursing service.

The total teaching program allows four options with parents invited to take part in one or all of none of them. They include:

● Pre-natal teaching of the Lamaze method of delivery which provides physical and psychological preparation for childbirth and stresses exercise, muscular control, breathing and relaxation in order to reduce sensitivity.

● Pre-natal orientation to the concept of rooming-in at the hospital. Rooming-in makes it possible for both parents to get to know their baby during the hospital stay and begin functioning as a family unit under the guidance of maternity nursing personnel.

● Pre-natal parent classes to assist parents in obtaining general knowledge of child bearing, good health habits and acquaint the father with the sharing experience.

● Post-partum teaching of infant care during hospitalization.

Sister Gabrielle said that the preliminary plans for the total program have state approval pending acceptance of policies and procedures.

The couple wishing to be together during the birth of the baby may do so with the permission of the physician, they must have attended childbirth education classes or received some advance preparation and the husband must agree to leave the labor-delivery area if his wife receives medication which would make her unaware of his presence. Also if the delivery requires an operative procedure.

The objectives of the Lamaze method of delivery is to provide a shared educational experience for both parents, to prepare the mother in learning muscular control, to permit the father to lend physical and psychological support to the mother before and during childbirth and to promote close family relationship.

The family-centered post partum care makes it possible for both parents to get to know their baby during the hospital stay. Each mother is made to feel free to have her baby cared for in the nursery or to have her baby at her bedside as little or as much as she wishes, except during regular visiting hours, at which time all babies must be returned to the nursery.

If the mother wishes she may undress her baby, diaper him and feed him on demand. The latter is especially important if the mother is breast feeding.

Sister Gabrielle explained that under Benedictine's new program the same nurse that cares for the mother, also cares for her child "as a unit." Parents choosing the rooming-in concept will be separated from mothers who do not wish to take part in that program.

"Not a new concept," Sister Gabrielle said that the administration and medical staff at Benedictine believe they should "provide the option of a modified family-centered maternal child program in order to encourage stable, secure family relationships based on the recognition and understanding of the needs of each family as individuals and as a unit."

She stressed that a couple may choose to attend the total program of all the classes or select that portion of the program that they wish to participate in or even select to attend none of the teaching sessions. The choice will be the prerogative of the parents and physician.

Involved in the teaching program will be Mrs. Agatha Castiglione RN director and coordinator. She is a graduate of Benedictine Hospital and St. John's University.

Teaching the Lamaze method will be Mrs. Nancy LoFaro RN and Mrs. Jane Remer RN, both graduates of Bellevue Hospital School of Nursing. They have been trained by the American Society of Psychoprophylaxis to teach psychoprophylaxis.

Detailed information may be obtained by calling Sister Gabrielle or Mrs. Castiglione at the hospital.

Hints from Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:

I like a lightweight sweater to wear when doing my housework so this is what I finally did!

I took a sweat shirt, cut it down the front and bound it with bias tape.

It is warm, yet not comfortable.

I cut the ribbing from the wrists and used it to make pockets on the front. They are so handy to hold all those little things one picks up when cleaning. Things like pins, bobby pins, marbles, bits of paper, thread, etc.

I find my shirt very satisfactory.

MRS. CROSS

LETTER OF THOUGHT

It was always my understanding that if an invitation said just "Mr. and Mrs." it meant no children.

A friend of ours, whose daughter is being married, is getting back acceptances with the entire family listed — and our friends had not provided for children.

I think this is very unfair because if a dinner is being served, this could really pose a problem.

Please don't misunderstand. I've had a family of children and love them dearly, but I never took them when their names were not included on the invitation.

Perplexed

Dear Heloise:

I've a hint for you about ice cubes.

While running water over an inverted ice cube tray, use a colander to catch the cubes. Keeps them all together, washed and drained.

A Reader

Dear Heloise:

While writing with a red ink marking pen, I got several spots of the ink down one side of the front of a favorite blue wool dress.

Nothing I tried, including ink remover, would get out those spots. Then an idea I had saved the dress.

I took floss in a shade of blue near the color of the dress. Then I embroidered separate flowers, each slightly different, covering each red ink spot completely.

That dress is prettier than ever.

It was much easier than trying to remove the ink!

Ruth M. Miller

P.S. An applique flower would serve as well for those who don't embroider.

R.M.M.

Dear Heloise:

I want to thank the lady who sent in the hint about using baking soda paste to remove perspiration stains from white blouses and shirts.

But when I made a paste of the baking soda and water, I found it was too hard to spread and was wasteful. I now use one heaping tablespoon of soda in a cup of warm water. This makes a wonderful solution.

When I do our shirts, I squeeze just the underarm parts in this water; then, when thoroughly wet, I let them stand for about twenty minutes before laundering.

You know, Heloise, it even takes the older stains away.

Please repeat this hint for your other readers. It has done such great things for me.

Allie Lilito

You just did, sweetheart, Thanks.

Heloise

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

Dear Heloise:

When you are trying to pull a dress up over your hips and it is threatening not to go—

Take a step and leave one foot in front of the other (about 12 inches apart). This allows a little hip compressing somewhere and the dress slides easier!

Bottom-heavy

Mrs. Jane Wood, Chodikee Lake Road, Highland, was honored at a luncheon at The Old Fort in New Paltz on February 2 in celebration of her 85th birthday. The luncheon was given by her niece, Mrs. Stanley (Eugenia)

Hasbrouck Jr. of Highland. In attendance were six of her seven sisters: Mrs. Walter (Cora) Marion, Mrs. Roy (Hazel) Davis, Mrs. Ellis (Leona) Litts, Mrs. James (Blanche) Bailey, all of Highland; Mrs. Richard (Emma) Prem of New Paltz.

Another sister, Mrs. Harold (Minnie) VanKleeck of Sebring, Fla., was unable to attend.

Also present were her nieces: Mrs. Vernon (Elvina) Terwilliger of Highland and Mrs. Hasbrouck; three great nieces, Miss Andrea Hasbrouck, Miss Gena Hasbrouck and Mrs. Stanley (Carole) Hasbrouck III, all of Highland.

All decorations were pink including Miss Wood's cake, corsage, candles and flowers which were given to each guest as a remembrance of the occasion. Miss Wood received numerous congratulatory messages and gifts from friends and relatives from throughout the United States.

'Midnight Happening' at Starlight Ball . . . Well Kept Secret

Mrs. Ward W. Ingalsbe Jr., general chairman, and Mrs. John R. Shults Jr., co-chairman of the Kingston Hospital Auxiliary's Starlight Ball, which will be held tomorrow evening at the Governor Clinton Hotel, were asked today about the special "Midnight Happening," which will be the feature event of the ball. Both chairmen politely, but firmly refused to give any details, as to the nature of the "Happening" because as they said, "it has been, we think, a well kept surprise 'til now, known only to the members of the committee and we'd like to keep it that way, until tomorrow night, when we hope everyone will be there to share in the fun." However, they did say that while, members of the Board of Trustees, Auxiliary officers and dance committee chairmen were not eligible to participate, they would be present to enjoy the event.

The Ball will feature the music of Papa Bear's Band and will be preceded by a Champagne Party, under the Chairmanship of Mrs. Amos R. Newcombe.

Beverly Oxley to Resume Classes

A large number of viewers who saw the recent Cablevision production devoted to Performing Arts of Woodstock was especially impressed with the scenes of Beverly Oxley's workshop in African and Caribbean Rhythm and Movement. Coinciding with the celebration of Black History Week, February 13-19, Performing Arts is pleased to announce the resumption of Miss Oxley's classes. The new term begins 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. and continues for six weeks.

Miss Oxley, who studied with Pearl Primus and toured

African and Caribbean countries for two years, is presently production assistant at Bard College in the Theatre Department. She directed and choreographed Holly Bey's "Late for Oblivion" this summer at the Cubiculo in New York and, most recently, appeared in the Performing Arts production of John LeFever's "The End of Albert England."

Fund-Raising Film Tonight, Saturday

A group of area women have gotten together to form an organization called Woodstock Women's Project whose purpose is to provide help in various fields for all women.

A fund-raising film is scheduled tonight at 7:30 o'clock and Saturday at 1:30 p.m. at St. Gregory's Episcopal Church on Route 212 in Woodstock. The films are entitled "Growing Up Female" and "The Women's Film," each an hour-long feature.

Proceeds will go toward women's health needs, educational literature and for the eventual establishment of a health clinic for women.

After the Saturday film showing, there will be a discussion period in which themes of importance to women will be explored. Free child care will be available Saturday afternoon at Christ Lutheran Church, Mill Hill Road, Woodstock.

MISH AND MASH

I think I've hit on one of the reasons why Luncheon at Roberto's is growing in popularity by the day! It seems those daily different Specials that Roberto cooks up not only are tasty, but by being ready make service speedier, and give lunchers more time to talk. That's only one reason, of course.

Others are the superb cuisine, the suave service, the sensible prices (Luncheon entrees range from $1.75 to $3.00) and the congenial atmosphere. I'll admit it's no place for a quick snack, but when you want to pamper yourself or treat some company, Luncheon at Roberto's definitely is an outstanding choice.

Daily, Tuesday through Friday, from 12 noon to 2 P.M. Try It . . . You'll Like It!

Lincoln's Birthday reminds me of one of Abe's greatest pieces of wisdom . . . the one that ends up "You can't fool all of the people all of the time."

For a long time, Roberto's has been the victim of reports that our "prices are high" . . . whatever that means. But you notice that since we inaugurated our new menu, which gives the prices of all entrees both a la Carte and Table d'Hôte, there isn't so much of that going around. The reason is simple: If you want an entree alone, without the cocktail, appetizer, dessert and coffee, the prices are no higher than at restaurants which cannot boast of cuisine to emulate Roberto's. And if you order the full course dinner (from $4.75), you get a bargain that no one around here can match. Don't take my bare word for it; take a look at our menu, and compare item for item, price for price, with any other you know.

RED-FACE DEPARTMENT

I'm a bit shame-faced to admit it, but somewhere around the premises, under some box or package or pile of papers (I hope) is a sheaf of TEMPO sheets which were filled out during the past month, and which I was holding until I started up the "colyum" again. Unfortunately, I haven't been able to find them yet; and I haven't the foggiest notion of where they could be. They're bound to turn up sooner or later, and they'll be used. In the meanwhile, here are several items that happened to remain at the edge of the Bar, where I left them. For instance, the dinner party of five ladies which turned out to be a thank you note from a landlord to a tenant! The landlord happened to be Mrs. Phyllis Turco, and the tenant guests were realtor Mrs. Joan B. Isgro, of Ulster County Realty (Kingston) and her sales staff: Mrs. Marie Gibbons, Mrs. Jackie Linariz and Mrs. Elaine Siegel. Seems that Mrs. Turco had been the guest of Ulster County Realty at Christmas, and gracious lady that she is, in return invited the ladies to be her guests for Dinner at Roberto's. As Mrs. Isgro said: "Every office should have a landlady like Phyllis Turco."

So say we at Roberto's, too! And, of course, I hardly need any written list to remember the guest list at the surprise 35th Anniversary Dinner tendered to Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Henry, of Port Ewen, by their daughter-in-law and son, Sharon and Bob Henry, Jr. Naturally, among those pleasant, in addi## tion to the two Robert Henry couples, were: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Corcoran, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Dempsey and Eileen; Mrs. Rose Dinino; Mr. and Mrs. Girard Flynn; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Gallagher; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Griggs; Mr. John A. Henry; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Henry; Mrs. Michael Henry; Mrs. Lucy Perry and Cookie.

To say that a good time was had by one and all would be an understatement; you could stick a hatpin blindfolded into that list and you'd have to come up with "the life of the party" no matter who you hit. Many happy returns of the day, folks.

Let me look for letters of praise, but, as the old adage has it: "It's nice to get flowers while you can still smell 'em." "Papa Joe" Amato got this billet, on behalf of the staff, from Marilyn (Ferraro) Stafford:

"I just want to thank you and the staff for the lovely time we had at Roberto's; Gary and I felt like a prince and princess. Everyone was so kind; the food was excellent; and your kindness made us rave for days. We really had fun at the bar with young Tom; Gary tended bar a few years ago, and being there talking to Tom brought back some good memories. Will be seeing you again soon; thanks for a wonderful evening."

Lincoln's Birthday reminds me of one of Abe's greatest pieces of wisdom . . . the one that ends up "You can't fool all of the people all of the time."

RED-FACE DEPARTMENT

I'm a bit shame-faced to admit it, but somewhere around the premises, under some box or package or pile of papers (I hope) is a sheaf of TEMPO sheets which were filled out during the past month, and which I was holding until I started up the "colyum" again. Unfortunately, I haven't been able to find them yet; and I haven't the foggiest notion of where they could be. They're bound to turn up sooner or later, and they'll be used. In the meanwhile, here are several items that happened to remain at the edge of the Bar, where I left them. For instance, the dinner party of five ladies which turned out to be a thank you note from a landlord to a tenant! The landlord happened to be Mrs. Phyllis Turco, and the tenant guests were realtor Mrs. Joan B. Isgro, of Ulster County Realty (Kingston) and her sales staff: Mrs. Marie Gibbons, Mrs. Jackie Linariz and Mrs. Elaine Siegel. Seems that Mrs. Turco had been the guest of Ulster County Realty at Christmas, and gracious lady that she is, in return invited the ladies to be her guests for Dinner at Roberto's. As Mrs. Isgro said: "Every office should have a landlady like Phyllis Turco."

So say we at Roberto's, too! And, of course, I hardly need any written list to remember the guest list at the surprise 35th Anniversary Dinner tendered to Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Henry, of Port Ewen, by their daughter-in-law and son, Sharon and Bob Henry, Jr. Naturally, among those pleasant, in addition to the two Robert Henry couples, were: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Corcoran, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Dempsey and Eileen; Mrs. Rose Dinino; Mr. and Mrs. Girard Flynn; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Gallagher; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Griggs; Mr. John A. Henry; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Henry; Mrs. Michael Henry; Mrs. Lucy Perry and Cookie.

To say that a good time was had by one and all would be an understatement; you could stick a hatpin blindfolded into that list and you'd have to come up with "the life of the party" no matter who you hit. Many happy returns of the day, folks.

Let me look for letters of praise, but, as the old adage has it: "It's nice to get flowers while you can still smell 'em." "Papa Joe" Amato got this billet, on behalf of the staff, from Marilyn (Ferraro) Stafford:

"I just want to thank you and the staff for the lovely time we had at Roberto's; Gary and I felt like a prince and princess. Everyone was so kind; the food was excellent; and your kindness made us rave for days. We really had fun at the bar with young Tom; Gary tended bar a few years ago, and being there talking to Tom brought back some good memories. Will be seeing you again soon; thanks for a wonderful evening."

BE-NO Lodge . . . Maybe No Barricade, Either

BY TOBIE GEERTSEMA
ALBANY

Friendly persuasion, discussion, arbitration—all the recommended means of solving controversial problems—have flatly failed to persuade the members of BE-NO Lodge to remove the barricade blocking the road to state lands on Overlook Mountain.

But what friendly persuasion failed to accomplish, a bill just introduced in the State Legislature may resolve. The bill is the combined effort of Assemblyman H. Clark Bell (R-Woodstock) and Senator Jay P. Rolison Jr. (R-Poughkeepsie) and it's aimed at giving hikers, picnickers and other citizens an ease over privately owned lands on Overlook Mountain which, in turn, will give the public access to state lands atop Overlook.

The bill is the result of a chain of events set in motion when C. Powers Taylor, of Hawthorne; Fred Mortenson, of Yonkers; and other BE-NO Lodge members purchased considerable acreage on Overlook; formed a small hunting club; and barricaded the access road up the mountain by the State Conservation Department, which maintains a fire tower atop Overlook. They said repeated vandalism of their cabin-lodges by trespassers was responsible for the decision to close the road off to the public; that only forest rangers would be provided with a key to the gate.

When the Conservation Department failed in its efforts to have the access road reopened after more than a year of trading opinions with Taylor, Mortenson and their hunting companions, the controversy took a new twist. In the fall of 1970, David Lenefsky, then a State Senator candidate, said he would go to court with a lawsuit to force BE-NO Lodge to unshackle its barricade.

But when Lenefsky was defeated at the polls the following month, he failed to follow through with legal action. Since then, others have petitioned Bell and Rolison to lend their efforts to the reopening of the roadway.

Now the two have introduced a bill which, if passed and signed by Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, will provide "a non-vehicular pedestrian easement which would provide access to state lands for all citizens without fear of trespassing over privately owned property."

They say the proposed legislation is "a last resort," and comes only after months of effort to persuade the lodge to give free access to the public—with proper safeguards and supervision against vandalism.

The problem until now has been that the lodge's lands surround the state's holdings on Overlook, and the locked fence has allowed no alternate access. But, if Rockefeller takes pen passage, the many people who, for many years have hiked, camped, studied the environment and enjoyed outdoor recreation on Overlook will be able to return to those pleasures.

The way Bell and Rolison see it is that "State lands are for all citizens to enjoy and wherever these right of enjoyment are impaired, legislative action must be sought for the general good."

Rolison Sponsors Car Bill

ALBANY

Senator Jay P. Rolison, Jr. (R., Poughkeepsie) has introduced legislation to require all cars, after January 1, 1974, to have a small decal, duplicate of its license plate affixed to the inside of the car window.

Such a decal would serve to make it difficult to switch plates on a stolen car, or sell a stolen car. It would also serve to identify abandoned cars, aid police in checking cars, and serve to deter stealing of plates for use on unregistered cars. It would also deter the defacing of plates.

The decal would constitute a "Third license plate" and would be a smaller replica of the license plate issued by the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles and conceivably could be combined with the annual inspection sticker.

The bill is co-sponsored by (Senator Jay P. Rolison, Jr., R. Dutchess-Ulster), (Senator John D. Caemmerer, R., Nassau) and (Assemblyman Robert F. Kelly, R., Kingston).

Speaking of the proposed legislation, Senator Rolison said: "It is our hope that this bill would serve to deter many types of car thieves, such as those who switch plates, deface plates or otherwise use the exposed, outside metal plates as a means of aiding them to steal cars."

"Since the sticker type, inside plate can not be removed without destroying it, it presents a greater obstacle to the car thief. If he removes it, the chances are that the police will spot it and stop him, because the absence of such a sticker would immediately arouse police suspicion. Toll takers at bridges and highways could assist the police, by reporting cars without stickers or those where the sticker and metal plates do not coincide."

"Because the stickers would be in full view, police could check long lines of cars with ease, something that can not be done now, unless there is a check point where cars are stopped."

"We believe that this bill will be extremely helpful to the police and to car owners in fighting the rising rate of car thefts."

"In addition these decals may also serve to aid to identifying cars abandoned along highway, in parks or vacant lots."

"While these 'Third license plates' can not be the whole answer to stolen cars, abandoned cars or the use of cars in crime, we believe they will serve as another useful tool in deterring crimes and protecting the property of our citizens."

Clinics Set For Ulster

KINGSTON

Two immunization clinics will be conducted in the near future by the Ulster County Health Department.

The first will be held at the Woodstock Dutch Reformed Church, Village Green, Wednesday, Feb. 16 from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. The second will be at the Tumor Clinic Building, 400 Broadway, Kingston, Friday, Feb. 18, from 10:30 to 11:15 a.m.

The clinics serve those who are referred by their physicians or those who are otherwise unable to secure immunizations against polio, whooping cough, diphtheria, tetanus and smallpox.

Rhinebeck Chamber Members

Added Police Protection Sought

RHINEBECK He said he expected that about 20 merchants will meet with village officials on added police protection. Mayor Peter Sipplerley is well aware of these plans, having been made privy to the Chamber's actions Wednesday night, and he asked them to attend.

Cerilli said that plans are also in the making in the Village of Red Hook for added hourly coverage. He has recently spoken with Mal Volino, proprietor of Red Hook Jewelry which was burglarized twice within a week this past month, and noted that some merchants in Red Hook want around-the-clock patrols.

The Rhinebeck police force consists solely of two fulltime patrolmen, with some deputies from the Sheriff's Department called in during summer months for specified patrols.

In Red Hook, there are two fulltime officers and several part time men who share duties.

The purported aim in both villages is to have coverage all night, every night.

Helen Battistoni, Chamber president, said that everyone seemed to think that Rhinebeck village was getting a reputation as a "soft touch" for thieves. She said that with two patrolemen, there is never anyone on duty between midnight and 7 a.m. and the people in the surrounding area know this. Also, with a 40-hour work week and seven days in a week, two patrolmen don't spread over a great enough period of time.

And Cerilli proposed to the Chamber that until more police protection can be given, that the merchants share the cost of having a private citizen patrol the business district.

While his duties would, of necessity, be limited, at least there would be someone abroad who could call police or forestall incidents by his presence.

"There are a lot of men out of work," said Cerilli. "I don't think we would have any trouble finding someone."

Police Commissioner Francis Kinney, a trustee of the village, has for several months asked the board to have a review or study made of the police situation in the village. Thus far he has met with no direct cooperation, as several members have felt that having the state trooper barracks nearby and some sheriff's patrols pass through was enough.

The suspected arson on an office on Montgomery Street recently and the burglary of Schermerhorn's Pharmacy of drugs and syringes last week brought the matter to a head with the Chamber.

Cerilli stated that he now locked all of the rings and watches in his safe at night and shrouds his counters with cloth so that no one can see what is there. He did not always do this.

Comptroller Levitt Files Suit

Court Test for State Budget

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — State Comptroller Arthur Levitt says should only be used when Gov. Rockefeller's proposed $7.9-billion budget is not sufficiently detailed about how money would be spent and he will take it to court.

If the courts agreed with the Democratic comptroller, it could lead to a new way of spelling out appropriations bills.

Several challenges to the constitutionality of the budget along similar lines have been rejected when the courts said those bringing the suit had no legal standing to challenge it.

But the question has been left open as to whether a state comptroller could sue.

Levitt told The Associated Press Thursday that he seeks an "agreed statement of facts" in the case with Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz, adding: "I would hope to be able to work out a submission on an agreed statement of facts, what the facts in the case are."

When asked if he would go to court otherwise, Levitt replied, "Yes, one way or the other."

"It is the same issue as presented before," he said referring to other cases—"whether the budget meets with the constitutional requirements."

Levitt, in his 1971 annual report, criticized the use of

"lump sums". He said they were threatened with being fired last year because of budget cuts a union took the "lump sum" issue to court. But the State Court of Appeals, New York's highest court, held that the several fired employees involved had no standing to sue.

Months later, two Democratic legislators went to court to force Levitt to challenge the budget. While the court said he could not be forced to sue, it did not rule out the idea.

The court said Levitt "may have standing to test the validity of the budget but he is not obliged to do so."

Brydges Seeks Vote On State Gambling

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Senate Majority Leader Earl W. Brydges plans to seek a Senate vote Tuesday on his proposed state constitutional amendment that would lift the gambling ban.

Should the amendment succeed, the legislature would then determine what type of gambling it would authorize, Brydges said.

Constitutional amendments must be approved by two successive legislatures and accepted at the polls. The issue could be on the ballot as early as November 1973.

The Niagara Falls Republican said Thursday his proposal conforms to one recommended by the State Off-Track Pari-Mutuel Betting Commission in its February report to the governor and legislature.

Brydges had previously suggested that the state take a "hard look at the possibility of entering the casino gambling field." He said, however, he will keep an open mind on the subject of removing the ban.

He said that the legislature would study the matter before the referendum determining what it might do to extend or control gambling.

But, he said, "this could presumably include, but not necessarily be limited to, some form of tightly regulated casino gambling, numbers and policy games and sports betting."

Some forms of gambling are legal in New York—the state lottery, bingo and pari-mutuel betting on horse races.

Brydges said the commission found tourists wager "billions upon billions of dollars each year through illegal channels."

Because gambling is illegal, he said the money cannot be used to serve the public. Instead, he said, it is used "to finance the operations of organized crime and to subvert and corrupt law enforcement."

A similar amendment was recently proposed in the Assembly by Bay Shore Republican Charles Jerabek.

Barbara Cochran Wins Slalom

SMILE OF A CHAMPION — The USA's Barbara Cochran is carried on the shoulders of her brother Bob Cochran (L) and Rick Chaffee after she won a first place in the women's slalom event Thursday and captured the first Gold Medal in alpine skiing for the U. S. in 20 years. (UPI)

By JACK STEVENSON

Associated Press Sports Writer
SAPPORO, Japan (AP) — As the song says: "Thank Heavens For Little Girls . . ." Without 'em the United States wouldn't have a medal to show for its efforts in the 11th Winter Olympic Games.

But with 'em, America's got six tucked away, three of them gold, which makes this its most successful winter Olympics in two decades.

The third gold came rocketing out of a heavy snowstorm Friday in the personage of Barbara Cochran, a 20-year-old skiing whiz from Richmond, Va., who mad-dashed her way to victory in the women's special slalom.

It came only two hours after Anne Henning put the third American bronze medal on the board in the 1,000-meter speed skating. The 16-year-old miss from Northbrook, Ill., who had won the 500 meters on Thursday, finished less than a quarter of a second behind West German winner Monika Pflug.

The American men remained shut out in the Games Friday night as world champion Ondrej Nepela of Czechoslovakia captured the gold medal in the finals of the men's figure skating.

Russia's Sergei Tcheteroukhin took the silver, moving ahead of Patrick Pera of France, who had been second after the compulsories.

Ken Shelley of Downey, Calif., finished fourth and John Mischa Petkevich, the Harvard pre-med student from Great Falls, Mont., was fifth, the two Americans moving up one spot as young Jan Hoffman of East Germany, fourth after the compulsories, slipped to sixth.

This marked the first time since 1936 that the United States had not won a medal in men's figure skating. Americans dominated the event from 1948 through 1960.

Miss Cochran, who managed to finish only 11th in the giant slalom, brought America its first gold in Alpine skiing—the men have never won that Olympic event—since the 1952 Games in Oslo, Norway, when the United States finished with four golds.

She did it with an all-or-nothing effort that resulted in a fastest first-run time of 46.05 seconds, when she was first down the slope, and a second-fastest time of 45.19 on the second run for a total time of 1:31.24, an incredibly scant two hundredths of a second less than silver medalist Danielle Debernard of France.

"This is definitely my mind of course," Barbara said after her triumph, which was climaxed by a kissing, hugging mob scene and a brief victory ride on the shoulders of her ecstatic teammates and coaches. "I usually do better on a steep course than a turning one."

After being the initial skier in the first run—"I liked the No. 1 start . . . because there was a light snow cover"—she was 15th in the second, when the snow really began coming down.

"I didn't watch any of the first 14," she said, "because I didn't want to know the times and, if they were having trouble, I didn't want to see them." She probably couldn't have, anyway, because of the downhill.

Asked how she felt about recent criticism that American athletes are too soft, she replied: "I think our skiers train as hard as anyone—and the results today prove it!"

The Northbrook crowd, which has had plenty to cheer about, was ready for more as Miss Second was Switzerland's Walter Steiner, who got the silver with 219.8 points. The bronze went to East Germany's Rainer Schmidt with 219.3. The best American was Ron Steele of Leavenworth, Wash., a distant 25th with 177.7.

American Hockey Coach Relaxed Under Pressure

SAPPORO, Japan (UPI)—the Russians and the Swedes. U. S. Hockey Coach Murray Williamson was dancing around his team's dressing room, over Poland, then the Americans could bring home a bronze medal. Conceivably, they could win the silver medal should a Finnish upset over the Swedes be added to the above scenario.

The key to the American success here is Curran, of Green Bay, Wis., who stopped 51 Czechoslovak shots in leading the U.S. team to a 5-1 upset. Curran made 35 saves in the 41 U.S. victory over Finland.

But the American forwards have added their share to the U.S. victories, piling up a total of 12 goals in four games. Standout skaters include Kevin Ahearn of Milton, Mass.,

Williamson says the 1972 Olympic hockey team is the best he's had in his five-year stint as head U.S. coach. "It's too bad this team can't go on after this year," he said. "With a little more experience and a little more time playing together, they could match the Russians."

The American coach says that when he returned from Russia he immediately put his players on a new conditioning system designed largely on the Soviet system.

"As far as conditioning goes here at the Olympics," Williamson said, "We're second only to the Russians."

The young American team has been the surprise of the Olympic Hockey Tournament. Backed by dazzling performances by Goalie Mike Curran, the Americans have scrambled to victories over Czechoslovakia and Finland while suffering losses to the Russians and the Swedes. If Russia beats Czechoslovakia and the United States wins over Poland, then the Americans could bring home a bronze medal. Conceivably, they could win the silver medal should a Finnish upset over the Swedes be added to the above scenario.

Goodrich Resigns

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (UPI)—Ward C. Goodrich, who took the job only two months ago, resigned Thursday as general manager of the Charleston Charles of the International League.

Goodrich cited alleged interference in the performance of his duties, lack of adequate funds and no signed contract for himself as the reasons.

New Life for Bob Rosburg

IN MIDDLE OF RHUBARB — Jim Colbert runs into some unusual trouble on the ninth hole at the Eldorado Country Club when his ball went into the crowd adjacent to the green. The people refused to move and after several minutes of argument, Colbert (with ball in hand) was forced to drop ball in the clear in the Bob Hope Desert Classic at Palm Springs, Calif. (UPI)

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI)—A year ago Bob Rosburg was ready to call it quits and start looking for work. Today, he is the second-round leader in the $45,000 Bob Hope Desert Classic and he's talking, instead, of winning.

"I think I am playing well enough to win," said the former Stanford star who hasn't taken a tourney title since the 1961 Crosby, "but winning is something that just happens."

In Rosburg's case that means he is confident but he isn't kidding himself.

After two rounds the 45-year-old Rosburg has a nine-under-par total of 35. He shot a six-under 66 at Indian Wells in the first round and added a three-under 69 at Bermuda Dunes in the second.

Alone in Second Place

Jerry Heard, the third-year pro from Visalia, who tied for the first-round lead, shot a second-round 70 at La Quinta and was all alone in second place, a stroke behind Rosburg and a stroke ahead of defending champion Arnold Palmer and Deane Beman.

Palmer, who has won four of the 12 previous Hope titles, continued his fine play carrying back to the final round of the Hawaiian Open. He shot a four-under 68 at Eldorado and said he was pleased with his recent play.

"I'm still not driving as well as I should," said Palmer, "but generally my game is all right. I'm making some good putts but I'm also missing a few."

Beman, who likes to play the desert courses, shot a seven-under-par 65 at Indian Wells in the second round. That's the best score of the tourney thus far but three strokes more than he got on the same layout in the 969 Hope.

Other Scores

George Knudson, with a second-round 69 at Indian Wells, and Johnny Miller, with a second-round 67 at Eldorado, trailed Palmer and Beman by a stroke at 38, six under par, and are very much in the chase as are Chi Chi Rodriguez, Billy Casper, Art Wall, Lionel Hebert, Tommy Aaron, Chuck Jones, Courtney, Mike Morley and Lanny Wadkins, who are tied at 139.

Jack Nicklaus, not playing as well as he can, is in a tie at 140 with Gay Brewer and Leonard Thompson, while seven players are at 141, seven more at 142 and five at 143, making a total of 36 under par for 36 holes.

Lee Trevino is well back in the pack at 147 and Grier Jones is at even-par 144.

Barnett Too Much For Philadelphia

Jim Barnett was simply too much for the Philadelphia 76ers Thursday night.

Barnett scored 12 of his 20 points in the final period to rally the Golden State Warriors to a 121-112 victory over the 76ers at Oakland. The triumph was the 18th in the last 22 games for Golden State.

Barnett hit six points during an 18-3 tear that carried the Warriors from a 99-98 deficit to a 116-102 lead with 2:23 left to play.

Nate Thurmond had 32 points and 21 rebounds to lead Golden State and Jeff Mullins had 27 points. Fred Carter had 30 points for the 76ers, who played without star forward Billy Cunningham.

In other National Basketball Association action, the Phoenix Suns routed the Baltimore Bullets, 131-98, and the Seattle SuperSonics whipped the Cincinnati Royals, 118-96.

Dick Van Arsdale and Paul Silas combined for 52 points as the Suns took advantage of the absence of Wes Unseld, the league's No. 2 scorer, to rout the Bullets. Lamar Green added a career-high 19 points for the Suns, who scored their first victory over Baltimore this season, while Jack Marin's 24 points were high for the Bullets.

Seattle ripped off a 12-0 streak early in the game and cruised past Cincinnati, which played without top scorer Nate Archibald and had only eight players available. Spencer Haywood had 28 to lead the Sonics and Dick Snyder added 19. Tom Van Arsdale led the Royals with 22.

A Rookie's Problem

Guy Lafleur of the Montreal Canadiens has a problem—the National Hockey League has only one Rookie of the Year Award and teammate Ken Dryden is considered a cinch to win it.

Lafleur, who scored 130 goals as a junior last season, would be a prime candidate except that Dryden, the Canadiens' Stanley Cup playoff hero last season, is still technically a rookie and considered by many observers to be the NHL's most valuable player. He is still a "rookie" by NHL standards because he did not play in 20 regular-season games last season.

Lafleur, a rookie by any standard, registered his third hat trick of the season Thursday night in leading the Canadiens to a 7-1 rout of the Chicago Black Hawks.

"I've got 21 goals so far," said Lafleur. "I can't really expect to score 130 in the NHL this or any season but I'll settle right now for No. 22."

The victory lifted the Canadiens to within five points of the second-place New York Rangers in the NHL Eastern Division.

The Boston Bruins, who lead the NHL East, smothered the Vancouver Canucks, 9-1, as Fred Stanfield scored twice, Phil Esposito connected for his 5th goal of the season and Bobby Orr was credited with four points. The victory ran the Bruins' unbeaten string at home to 20 games and goalie Gerry Cheevers also extended his unbeaten streak to 20.

Marcel Dionne's 15th goal of the season capped a three-goal second period which enabled the Detroit Red Wings to beat the Buffalo Sabres, 4-2; goals by Lou Nanne, Juddes Drouin and Murray Oliver paced the Minnesota North Stars to a 3-1 triumph over the St. Louis Blues and Ron Schock had two goals and an assist as the Pittsburgh Penguins vacated the West cellar by defeating the Los Angeles Kings, 6-1 in other games.

KHS Whacks Pine Bush

PINE BUSH

Coach Ron Gabriele's undefeated Maroon swimmers will have a real incentive going for them, when they host Newburgh Free Academy Monday at the New Paltz State University pool—a perfect season.

The newly-crowned Dutchess County Scholastic League champions (in their first year), are 9-0 following Thursday's impressive 58-37 victory over a strong Pine Bush squad.

With characteristic modesty, Coach Gabriele said "the match was closer than the final score. We expected trouble and the boys were up for this one."

Kingston got doubles from Jim Gogg and John Edwards and a new pool record from Claude Landerway, the sensational rookie swimmer, who ex-

Sports Briefs

Robinson Honored

NEW YORK (UPI)—Brooks Robinson, all-star third baseman of the three-time American League champion Baltimore Orioles, was honored Thursday as "the player who best typifies the game of baseball" at a luncheon presided over by Commissioner Bowie Kuhn.

Harmon Killebrew of the Minnesota Twins, Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs and Al

Kaline of the Detroit Tigers were the other finalists in voting by major league executives and members of the news media.

Contract Inked

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Dick Sharon, a rookie outfielder who batted .255 at Waterbury, Conn., in the Eastern League last season, signed his 1972 contract Thursday with the world champion Pittsburgh Pirates.

tended his perfect season to 18 straight wins.

The Maroons captured the 400-yard freestyle relay and got singles from Dennis Roth and Jay Riftenbary, who also in the results:

Kingston 58 — Pine Bush 37

400 Freestyle Relay — Kingston (Mark Davis, Dennis Roth, Claude Landerway, Kent St. John). Time 3:57.6.

Landerway's pool record of 1:03.7 in the 100-yard backstroke was Kingston's first record of the season.

"It seems ironical that with all our success this season, we have not broken any records," Gabriele commented. "The races today were close and I'd have to say it was our toughest meet since Lourdes."

Following the NFA meet Monday, Kingston will look ahead to the Section I competition at White Plains the first week of March.

STONE RIDGE beat Ulster this season is first rated with 50 points and seven Region XV rating board, Ulster County Community College's 19-1 Senators go against powerhouse Kingsborough Community as the region's third-ranked team Saturday night at Brooklyn.
How did it all come about? Well, Farmingdale, only team to over Sullivan-Schafer-Post of New Paltz with the circuit's top series of 233-200-574.

Town of Esopus blitzed Kingston Post No. 3 with a 3-0 sweep without a 500 series. Marlborough swept Town of Olive and Kingston Post No. 1 won a trio from Kingston Post No. 2.
Top individual performances were: Abe Abrams, Sullivan-Schafer, 222-566; John Smith, SS, 212-554; Bob Jones, L.H. 215-548; Red Wands, Kingston No. 2, 210-531, George Heidcamp, L.H. 214-535.

On this game," said Coach Mike Perry, who did not seem disturbed by Ulster's demotion to third place. "I've stopped worrying about them," he said. "The big thing is to beat Kingsborough and that's going to take our very best effort."
The teams appear evenly matched. Kingsborough, anchored high scoring Ed Middleton (26.2 average), has a 98.2 offense average, while holding the opposition to 74.6 points a game. UCCC is scoring at a 90.4 clip and defending at 68.8, second best in the region, behind Farmingdale's 64.4.

Your Horoscope

Saturday, February 12

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A beautiful day and evening to follow the best in public life as expressed by the emancipator whose birthday is celebrated today. Be sure to think out how you can best use your creative capabilities so they can serve both humanity generally as well as yourself in particular. Rise above fear.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Ideal day to think over some new plan that will be good for both you and associates and to get it rolling satisfactorily. Sit down with powerful persons and talk over new ideas. Help the downtrodden today, too.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You have every opportunity to add to present activities in a way that will bring more happiness into your life. Write to those out-of-town associates and find out what their ideas are. Stop feeling sorry for yourself.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You have an opportunity today to get much accumulated work done, also to start some new project that is worthwhile, so get busy early. Out to whatever is pleasurable with loved one later in the day. Keep smiling.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Ideal day to sit down with partners and talk over the right course of action for the future. Anything of a civic nature can be handled well now. Make this an active, happy day.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You get the aid of others now for some new and workable plan you want to put in motion soon. You have excellent taste and can make your wardrobe truly charming, modern. Do something constructive about that artistic talent you have, also.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) A day to forget dull routines and have a delightful time as you most desire. People who like you can be most helpful to you now. They understand your finest traits and appreciate them.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Ideal day to make improvements around your house, establish more harmony with kin and increase happiness there. Do all those things that will start an upturn in your life. Don't forget to pay important bills.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Get busy ironing out rough spots in your daily routines so they become more profitable and easier to manage. Arrive at the point of congeniality with all your friends. A happier life is possible for you in the future.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You can improve your monetary affairs considerably through your dealings with big and important people today, or in p.m. Make improvements to property and other assets you have. Get out to see that good friend in p.m.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You are now able to get personal life on a more satisfactory plane, so make an early start. Entertain or be entertained as best suits you. Plan a new wardrobe that brings out your finest features.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You can now do those things that please you most, so make your plans early and follow through. The future can be infinitely better. Have those private meetings with others that are just your cup of tea.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Ideal day to gab about with persons you like who admire you. You will get right results.

Some special aim can be attained if gone after with energy. Try to emulate Honest Abe.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those very talkative young people who will make a great deal of sense. Will be successful in life because the nature combines the idealistic and the practical. Others will find it difficult to fool your youngster, who forever makes plans, then carries through in a positive fashion. Give as fine an education as you can afford and much success will follow.

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

SKIRTS OR JEANS? (Q.) This group of girls, of which I am one, is half hippie and half neat. For school we wear skirts, sweaters, culottes, wool shorts, nice pants. At home or shopping or fooling around we wear jeans, sweaters and boys' orange work boots.

Our boy friends go to another school and never see us except in jeans and boots. We just realized they may look at us and say, "Yuk, what a mob of tomboys!"

But they wear jeans too, and if we came out in nice pants or school type skirts they might think we were too dressed up, or expected them to take us somewhere.

Besides, with the goofing around we do with the boys, nice pants would get to looking like who did it and ran in no time. What would you do?—One of the Group in Connecticut.

(A.) You have a right to except more than you seem to be getting from these boys. I think clean, neat pants, and, yes, an occasional casual skirt, would add a needed dimension.

It might start deemphasizing the group and bring on double or single dating. Dating is better than just goofing around.

WEIRD DAD: (Q.) The kids at my church make fun of my dad. I know he does some weird things, but that is just the way he is.

I have asked them to stop because it isn't funny. But they keep right on calling him names. It hurts me for my friends to do that. Please tell me what I can do to stop it.—Burdened in Oklahoma.

(A.) Talk to both your friends and your father. Tell your friends that people who tease other people are often both ignorant and cruel and that your father is not ignorant, or cruel and doesn't tease people.

Tell them that in church we are taught to be kind and loving to each other, and that what they are doing is not kind and loving.

You do not say what it is that your father does that is weird. Whatever it is, talk to him about it and let him know, in a sympathetic way, what your friends are saying about him.

The talk may help him to change and be less weird. # U.S., South Vietnam Planes Pound 225-Mile Stretch

SAIGON (AP) — Hundreds of U.S. and South Vietnamese warplanes pounded a 225-mile stretch of the western frontier from the demilitarized zone to the central highlands in some of the heaviest raids of the Indochina war, informants said today.

Air Force and Navy fighter-bombers and U.S. B-52 heavy bombers launched about 400 strikes during the 24-hour period ending at dawn today, the informants said.

The raids ranged over South Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia. Warplanes struck at North Vietnamese infiltration corridors leading from the DMZ, Laos and Cambodia into western South Vietnam, at staging areas, base camps, supply depots and troop concentrations.

Their mission was to blunt the big enemy offensive which U.S. officers predict will come this month, just below the DMZ or in the central highlands and adjacent coastal lowlands.

About half of the raids were flown in South Vietnam, the heaviest since last August and September when U.S. air power helped counter a North Vietnamese push below the DMZ.

A total of 201 tactical air strikes were reported in South Vietnam, 32 more than were flown in the previous 24 hours. On both days half were flown by U.S. planes, the other half by the South Vietnamese air force, while almost all the missions in Laos and Cambodia were flown by American pilots.

In one raid on an enemy base camp in the central highlands, the U.S. Command said, helicopter gunships and bombers killed 25 enemy troops and destroyed 20 bunkers.

The command also announced that an Air Force F4 Phantom crashed Thursday night while on a mission against the Ho Chi Minh trail. The two crewmen were picked up by a helicopter this morning.

The Saigon command reported 23 enemy attacks during the 24-hour period ending at dawn today plus 38 government operations of battalion size or larger.

Communiques from the Saigon headquarters and field reports listed at least 29 South Vietnamese troops killed and 104 wounded. The South Vietnamese command claimed 149 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops killed.

Communist forces apparently trying to cut South Vietnam's busiest highway ambushed two U.S. convoys and encircled a government outpost, field reports said.

On Route 1, the north-south coastal highway, enemy soldiers firing rockets ambushed a U.S. convoy near the Hai Van Pass, about 20 miles northwest of Da Nang. The command said no Americans were hurt, and one vehicle was damaged slightly.

A second convoy was hit 230 miles to the south near Tuy Hoa by about 30 enemy troops firing small arms, automatic weapons and grenades. One American was reported wounded and two vehicles were damaged slightly.

Eighty miles north of Tuy Hoa, a battalion of North Vietnamese surrounded and attacked a 40-man government outpost, then clashed with reinforcements trying to relieve the outpost.

The South Vietnamese command said several hundred reinforcements drove off the enemy and killed 40 of them with U.S. air support, but field reports said the outpost remained under siege.

Initial reports said 12 South Vietnamese soldiers were killed and 15 wounded in the fighting Thursday.

In ground action elsewhere, Viet Cong guerrillas killed or wounded virtually the entire government of a hamlet 25 miles southwest of Saigon. Four officials and two militiamen were killed and three officials

Congress Talking Tax Increase

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The wants the American public to Congress that cut taxes by $22 billion since 1969 is now talking for an economic recovery this year on a free-spending public that will create demand for goods and services, cutting into unemployment while wage-price controls curb inflation.

But for reasons both political and fiscal, liberal Democrats in Congress keep insisting that a tax increase is needed, if not now then certainly in 1973, and that the cream this time should be skimmed from the top brackets.

Rep. Martha W. Griffiths, D-Mich., told Treasury Secretary John B. Connally Jr. that no candidate for the presidency "can run an honest campaign that fall without telling the American people that they're due for a large increase in taxes."

Not so, said Connally. A tax increase is "not inevitable."

When Rep. Henry Reuss, D-Wis., demanded at a hearing of Congress' Joint Economic Committee that President Nixon send Congress a list of loopholes that could be closed, George P. Schultz, Nixon's budget chief, replied: "Let the Congress do its work and let the President do his work. But let the Congress stop telling the President how to do his job."

Politically, the Democrats are making a campaign issue of tax loopholes. The 1969 Tax Reform Act was ballyhooed as certain to make every American with an above-poverty income pay at least some taxes. It didn't.

Also advancing the Democrats' new-found interest in tax reform is the administration's interest in a value-added tax, a form of national sales tax. Nixon said Thursday the tax still is being considered, but that no decision has been made.

The Democrats see the value-added tax as regressive, harder on the poor than the rich, but appealing if offered to homeowners as a way of cutting high real estate taxes levied by localities to pay for public schools.

Commission Freezes Phone Hikes

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) — In suspending the rate hike granted the New York Telephone Co., the federal Price Commission effectively assumed jurisdiction over utility cases before the state's Public Service Commission, PSC Chairman Joseph C. Swidler said Thursday night.

Swidler issued the comment hours after the Price Commission slapped a nationwide 30-day freeze on rate increase requests from hundreds of privately owned utilities. With the exception of the $160 million a year New York Telephone increase, the Price Commission's action did not apply to increases already in effect.

Commission Chairman C. Jackson Grayson Jr., said the New York Telephone increase—averaging nine per cent—would have escaped the freeze because it was already in effect, but he said it was included in the suspension order "because of its large economic impact."

The hike, which took effect earlier this month, is the second half of a $350 million a year increase in rates. The first portion of the increase took effect on a temporary basis last year.

Swidler said approval of the higher rates by the PSC "complied with the Price Commission regulations in effect at the time and with the requirements of New York State law."

He said it was "imperative" that if the Price Commission decides to impose new requirements or standards that it do so as soon as possible "so that this and other regulatory agencies throughout the country may be able to discharge their functions."

Swidler said that by taking the action, the Price Commission "assumed jurisdiction over the New York Telephone increase and all other pending matters."

Mine Kills Two British Soldiers

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI)—A homemade mine exploded under a British Army Land Rover 50 miles south of Belfast Thursday, killing two soldiers and wounding two others.

Two other soldiers were wounded earlier near Coalish land when an army vehicle touched off a booby trap. An army spokesman said it was the worst day for military casualties in months in the troubled Republic.

The mine explosion occurred near Cullyhanna, about 50 miles south of Belfast and not far from the border with the Irish Republic.

An army spokesman said the recent bombings in rural areas indicated a switch from the city to the country by extremists. The army blamed the bombings on the Irish Republican Army (IRA), which believes in force in its campaign to take Northern Ireland away from British rule and unite it with the Irish Republic.

Two shots fired in the Catholic Lower Falls area of Belfast missed an army patrol but slightly injured a 67-year-old woman passing by, the army said.

"This is a fairly predictable pattern the IRA uses," the spokesman said. "They start directing action at the more vulnerable targets in the rural area where they can hit and run."

"In the meantime, they hope that will get the troops in the city to relax. Then they come back and hit them again," he said.

Earlier, three bombs exploded in the seaside village of Kilkeel, destroying the town's fishery headquarters and a government office. No injuries were reported.

In Belfast, Prime Minister Brian Faulkner Thursday rejected the possibility of an early end to the government's policy of detaining suspected IRA members without trial.

"It would clearly be quite wrong and irresponsible to release dangerous men in circumstances where they would simply resume terrorist activity," Faulkner told a political meeting.
